Canyon Schools Will Open On Sept. 7th

ENROLLMENT TO BE MADE FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 4th

Supt. Irby Carruth Outlines Work for Opening of Fall Term of Canyon Schools

NEW DEPARTMENTS
Country Schools Will Be Transported to Canyon—New Teachers Added For Coming Year

The Canyon Public Schools will begin the 1936-37 term on Monday, September 7, at nine o'clock. Enrollment will begin at nine o'clock on Friday morning, September 4, and will continue throughout the day for high school students, and until noon for grade school students. The seventh, eighth, and ninth grade pupils will enroll from nine o'clock until twelve o'clock, and the tenth and eleventh grade students from one o'clock until four o'clock.

Grades one to six will report to the elementary school at nine o'clock on Friday morning and will remain until twelve o'clock. The officials of the school wish to urge that all who can enroll on Friday, inasmuch as regular school work will begin on the following Monday. The school trucks will run at eight o'clock Friday morning and will return at twelve o'clock.

All students who are entering the Canyon Public Schools for the first time, or who have been in other schools and are re-entering the public school, are urged to bring their book cards and their report cards when they come to enroll. This will greatly facilitate matters, and might save the student time in getting his program worked out and in adjusting himself to the system.

Superintendent Irby Carruth reports that there will doubtless be a strong enrollment. The regular student body will be augmented by the entire student body from the Palo Duro District, east of town, and the Wilson School District, west of town. Other schools in the county have indicated that

Mrs. W. C. Black and Mrs. Irby Carruth, daughter of Henry Bradford, left Tuesday morning to attend the funeral of their uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Littleton and baby of El Paso spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. R. E. Littleton and other relatives.

THOMPSON, LITTLE, BECKMAN ARE WINNERS

Loans For Seed Are Increased by Order President

Limit Raised From $200 to $400; 100 Loans Completed May Be Increased If Needed

By executive order on Friday, President Roosevelt increased the loans available to wheat farmers from $200 to $400.

About 100 applications for loans had been completed in Randall county but now that the limit has been increased, farmers may increase the amount of their loans if they need the additional money.

Recommendations had been made by congressmen from the drouth section to increase the limit to $500, but the order of the President will greatly assist those who need more than $200.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch believes that about 200 more applications will be taken if rain should come in the near future.

Term of District Court Is Extended For Trial 2 Cases

The summer session of district court was extended Saturday afternoon by Judge C. E. Nelson as two cases were set for trial on Friday of this week.

The following cases were disposed of before the court closed the regular term:

First National Bank of Canyon vs. Lena Tueck, administratrix, verdict for the plaintiff.

First National Bank of Canyon vs. O. W. H. Cook, verdict for plaintiff.

State of Texas vs. Mike Allred, continued until the January term of court.

Tom Brown vs. Ruth Brown, divorce granted plaintiff.

Albert Byars, J. B. Fox and Clyde W. Warwick served as a jury commission Saturday to select jurors for the next term of court.

A young man by the name of Jack Sutton, whose home is in Amarillo, was given a suspended sentence last week on the charge of robbery. He is no relative of the Sutton family in Randall county. This statement is made in fairness to Charles Sutton, who lives in the southeast part of the county, and whose son is named Jack.

Mrs. Earl L. Craig Wins Radio in Nation Wide Contest

Mrs. Earl L. Craig has been announced as the winner of a $55 RCA Victor radio in a nation-wide contest conducted by Proctor & Gamble.

Mrs. Craig has received the radio from the company, and a representative was here Saturday to check up as to the satisfaction of the contest as conducted by the company.

GAMEWELL IS LEAVING

W. I. Gamewell left Sunday for Talco, new oil town in East Texas, where he will establish law offices, being associated with Dallas lawyers. Mrs. Gamewell will leave in a few days.

Mr. Gamewell came to Canyon several years ago from Dallas. He formerly lived at Dalhart.

Talco is a booming town in the oil field and has the prospects of great development, states Mr. Gamewell.

Miss Gwendolyn Black returned Friday after spending the summer in Wisconsin as director of music in two different Girl Scout camps. On her return trip she stopped off at Chicago and visited the Gamble girls and from there she went to Indiana where she visited relatives.

Boy Scouts Put On Program For the Rotary Club

The Boy Scouts of Canyon were entertained Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon when the boys were guests of the club.

Levi Cole, scoutmaster, was given a vote of thanks by the Rotary Club for his work with the boys. The Rotary club sponsors the scout work.

Leo Dufflot, junior assistant scoutmaster, directed the boys in the program, which consisted of contests, first aid, the oath and other rituals of the troop.

The following were visitors: H. M. Russell, E. R. Pinker, S. Blasdel, Jim Oakes, all of Amarillo; Chas. Chamberlain of Nacogdoches; L. S. Baker of Canyon.

Adult Education Classes Are Held Daily; 2 Teachers

Adult Education Classes are being conducted each afternoon from 4:30 to 8 o'clock by Mrs. Ruth E. Baker and Howard A. Cox in commercial subjects, English, speech and arithmetic. These classes, being sponsored by the government, are free to the public. The classes are held in the county court room at the court house.

The object of Adult Education is much broader than to instruct illiterates alone, although this is an important phase; but its main purpose is to furnish a leader for open forum discussion on topics of interest and of particular interest to the pupil.

If you are interested in this type of education, see Mrs. Baker for a conference period any time after 4:30 p. m. Thursday or Friday. Subjects of interest will be worked out for future study and a convenient hour for instruction will be arranged.

BUILDING HOME ADDITION
Frank R. Phillips is adding two rooms to his home at 2104 Fifth Ave. The rooms are built as a second story to the house.

Light Vote Is Cast In Randall County For the Second Primary Election Saturday

NEW COMMISSIONER

Col. Thompson, J. E. McDonald, G. H. Little are Winners in State and District

Only 1150 votes were cast in the second primary in Randall county last Saturday as compared with more than 2,000 in the primary of July. The first primary failed to bring out more than 500 qualified voters in the county.

About 800,000 votes were cast over the state in the second primary as compared with more than a million in the first primary. In counties with hot local elections, the vote was much larger than in those counties, like Randall, where there were no county-wide races to be settled.

The only local race in Randall county was in precinct No. 2, where County Commissioner W. H. Neal was defeated by Clarence Beckman. Beckman received 123 votes, while Neal received 93. Only 200 votes were cast for three candidates in the first primary, as compared with a total of 216 in the second primary. All three

Only One Bid On Postoffice Is Submitted

Government Asked to Accept the Bid, But It May Be Necessary to Advertise Again

Only one bid was submitted last Friday for the construction of the postoffice in Canyon. This was by J. J. Fitch of Dallas, who has the contract for the construction of the Quanah postoffice. The bid was $57,300, practically the same price as the Quanah bid.

Mr. Fitch telephoned W. A. Warren this morning that the treasury department was considering calling for bids again since his was the only bid submitted, and would decide today.

Mr. Warren, Mayor C. R. Burrow and Clyde Warwick are contacting Congressman Marvin Jones and Senator Tom Connally this morning to see if the government will not accept the bid.

If the building is re-advertised it is likely that the contract cannot be let before the middle of October.

C. K. Crawford of Olney is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Ball.

Bust of Sheffy to Be Given W.T. By Summer Graduates

In recognition of the splendid work done by Prof. L. F. Sheffy in preserving the history of this section, the graduating class for this summer will place in the College auditorium a bust of Mr. Sheffy. T. E. Simms of the University of Oklahoma will carve the bust from stone.

Mr. Sheffy came to W. T. as head of the history department to succeed Dr. J. A. Hill when he was elected President of the College. He is secretary of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, and under his direction the museum building was erected.

During the past year he has worked on the addition to the museum, and assisted very greatly the Centennial Commission of Control in the selection of worthy historical spots in Northwest Texas to be marked.

Buffalo Training Camp Will Open on the 10th of Sept.

A story on the opening of the Buffalo football training camp published in The News last week was incorrect as to the date. The opening of the camp will be on Sept. 10th, instead of Sept. 1st.

Coach Baggett arrived home last Wednesday from New York where he attended Columbia University during the summer.

Coach Baggett is highly pleased with the outlook for the football season, and indications are that practically all of the men on whom he had depended will be here for the opening of the training period.

Miss Ellis Gets Masters Degree; Well Known Here

Friends here of Miss Winnie D. Ellis will be interested in learning that she received a Master of Arts degree from Southern Methodist University at the annual summer commencement Friday evening, Aug. 22. Her thesis subject was "Trends in Selective Admission to Teacher Training and the Certification of Teachers." The study included the practices in the 48 states as revealed through questionnaires sent to the various state departments of education.

Miss Ellis has spent many summers in Canyon and she received her B. S. degree from W. T. in 1932. She is a member of Alpha Chi, national scholarship society, and of Delta Kappa Gamma, national society for outstanding women teachers. She has taught for many years in the public schools of Dallas county.

MRS. SAUNDERS RECEIVES DEGREE FROM PEABODY

Mrs. Laura Saunders received her masters degree from the George Peabody College for Teachers last Friday at the end of the summer session.

Mrs. Saunders is a member of the W. T. faculty and has been in Nashville for the past six months.

Mrs. Nellie Jackson of Joplin, Mo., is visiting here at the home of Mrs. Frances Bryant this week.

Mrs. W. R. Ratcliff spent the week end visiting in Pampa with Mr. Ratcliff.

MERCHANTS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN TO CHRISTMAS

Meeting Tuesday Night Is Attended By Large Number of Business Men of Canyon

PROGRAM DISCUSSED

Thompson Urges Co-Operation Given to Chamber—Warren Outlines Work for Future

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce outlined a program for the fall months at a meeting held Tuesday night at the court house. The program includes a continuation of the regular Saturday afternoon cash distribution until Christmas; making trade trips at least twice during the fall; planning for weekly entertainment features; a larger and better Christmas program than was put on last winter.

Representatives from 24 business houses of Canyon were present and entered into the discussion of ways and means for improving conditions in Canyon.

President W. A. Warren of the Chamber of Commerce outlined some of the things the directors had been considering. "Canyon is not capitalizing upon the things which we have to offer," stated Mr. Warren. "There is no grounds for alarm as to the future of Canyon if all business firms and citizens will co-operate in building Canyon," continued the speaker.

Some of the greatest need of Canyon is some one to devote his time and energy in civic work, believes Mr. Warren. During the past years everything that has been accomplished in Canyon has been centered around the College. This is right and important, but other features have been neglected. The building of markets for the farmers, cultivating the good will of farmers and those in the trade territory, are very essential.

From a business standpoint, Mr. Warren urged each merchant to make his place more attractive; to make his prices compete with the Special Irrigation Rate Given by City Commission in Aug.

Owing to the dry weather during this month and necessity of irrigating the trees, the City Commission announced yesterday a special irrigation rate.

Harvey Cash made the following statement regarding the rate: "An additional 20% off on all bills where water was used for irrigation purposes, no bill for irrigation purposes being for less than $1.89, this to apply on August bills only when paid by September 10th."

Truck Drivers and Janitors Named In Schools by Trustees

At a meeting of the School Board Monday night, the budget for the 1936-1937 school year was adopted without a dissenting word from any citizen. The budget had been advertised for ten days as required by law.

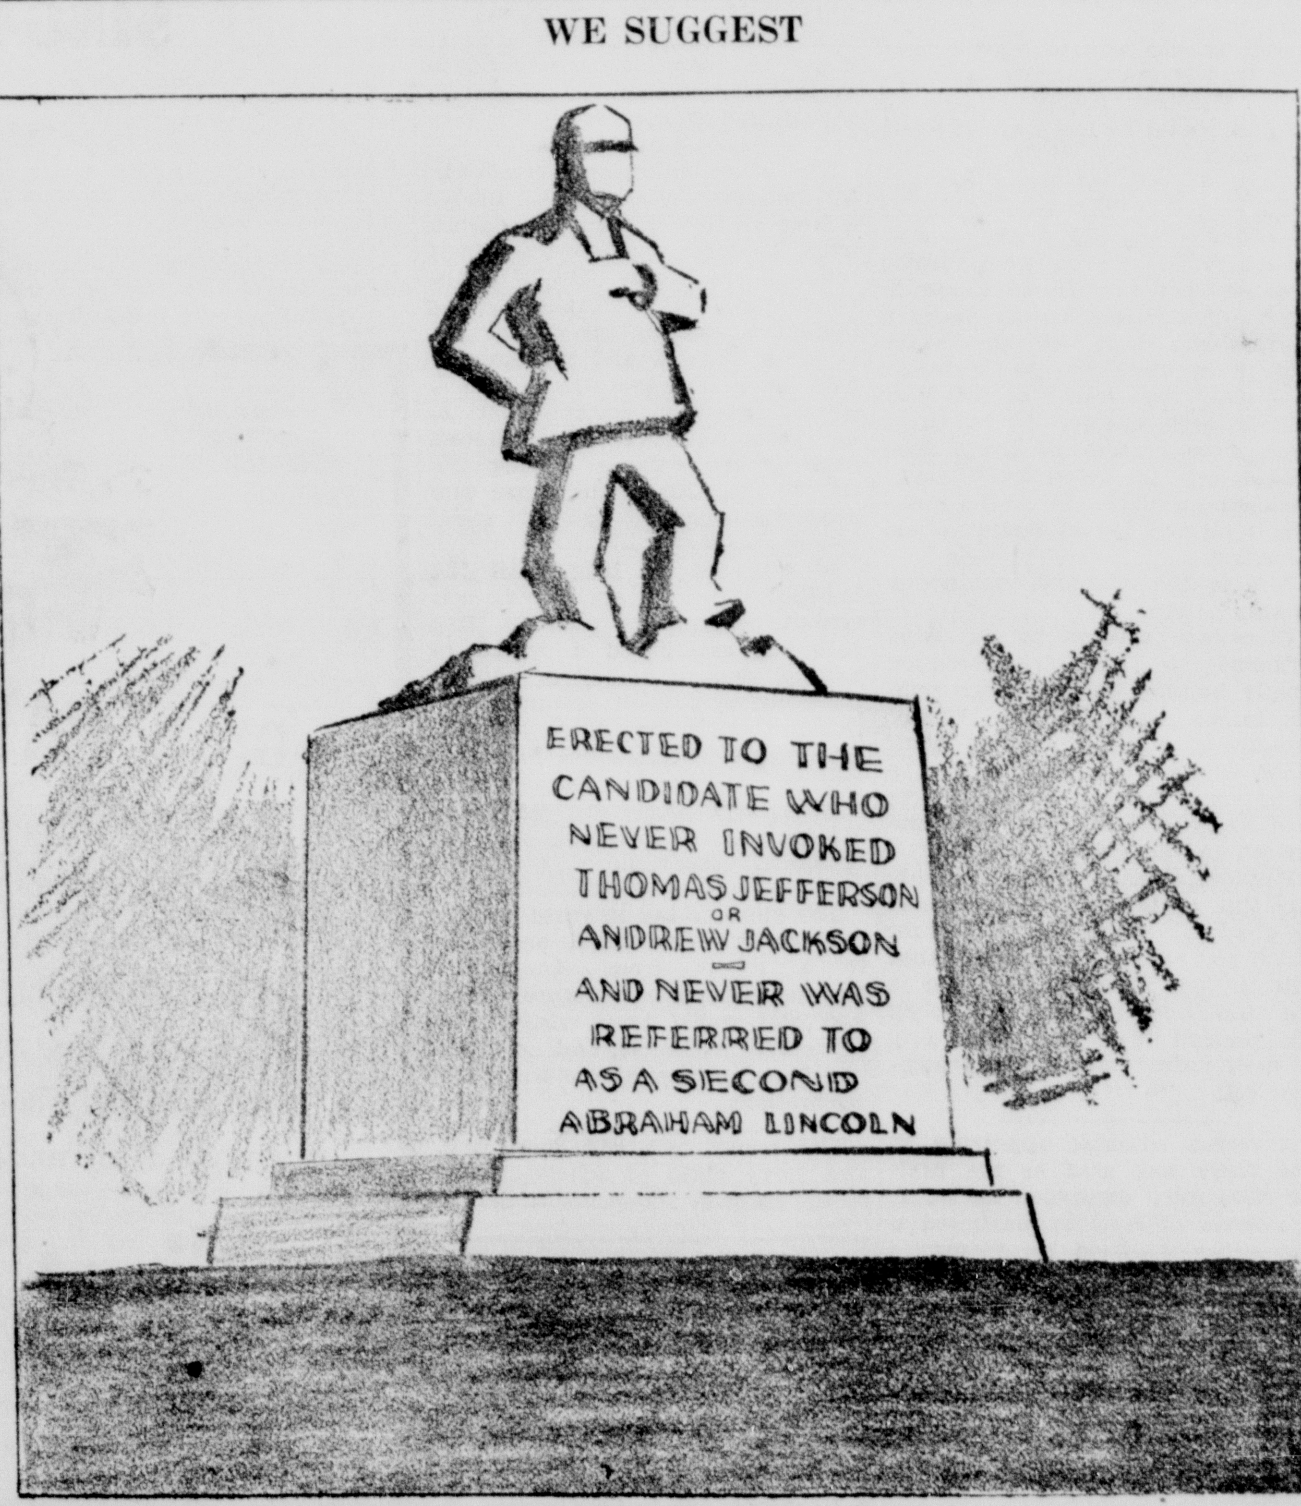

J. A. Moore, Jim Upfold, and G. W. Johnson were re-elected to drive the school busses for another year. These men all served in this same capacity last year.

I. M. Steen was re-elected as janitor in the elementary school.

Mrs. E. I. Boyce and Miss Evelyn Boyce visited in the home of Mrs. F. E. Weldon at Liberal, Kansas, over the week end. Mrs. Weldon is a sister of Mrs. Boyce and has visited here several times.

Lee Foster went to Stamford over the week end. Mrs. Foster returned home with him after visiting at the parental J. A. Brewer home for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murray and Miss Virginia Murray are visiting relatives in Haskell County this week.

THE SECOND PRIMARY

"What are you going to write about now that the primary elections are over?" asked a friend of The News, Saturday.

Perhaps The News has devoted too much space to politics this summer, and has had too much to say regarding the candidates. If so, it was because of the great interest which we have in the political welfare of the state. We look upon our government as a co-operative machine in which we hire our public servants in these public elections. If the people are not intelligently informed as to the qualifications of the candidates, mistakes are liable to be made.

The chief regret that we have had in the campaigns this year was the mud slinging which was indulged in by the candidates and their friends. When a candidate has no qualifications of his own, or sees that he is whipped, immediately he starts slinging mud in order to deceive the voters.

Some candidates would make every other man in the race out to be a supreme crook. Unfortunately a lot of voters look upon every office holder to be as crooked as a snake. There is no way to keep crooked candidates from seeking office, but it is a test of the intelligence of voters when such persons are elected to office. What a happy solution it would be if every candidate running for public office could be forbidden to refer to his opponent, but to talk only of himself, what he had done, and what he proposed to do. There would be much less talk during these campaigns.

Again, what a happy solution it would be if the voters would assume the attitude that they were hiring men to work for them, and would seek qualifications rather than a vote of spite against some one whom they do not like. Is the primary a success?

We believe that on the whole the voters have made wise selections this year of the public officials, but at what an enormous price! These primaries are costing the candidates too much. It used to be said that the primary was the only way that poor men could run for public office. Not so any more. As all candidates will testify, the primary has developed into the most expensive method of seeking public office. A poor man without influential friends cannot seek a state office. The district and county offices under the primary system cost too much.

Furthermore, under the primary system the candidate lays himself open to such unreasonable abuse that he shudders to ask for election. If he happens to have made a success of his own affairs, a large number of voters call him a crook, and that he does not need the office; if he happens to be poor, another class claims he is not qualified, because he has nothing to show for his own personal work, and therefore is not qualified to work for the public.

And so it goes, 'round and 'round. What we started out to say was that the second primary should be abolished by the next session of the legislature, and the preferential primary substituted. There was not a candidate nominated last Saturday who would not have been nominated under the preferential primary in the first primary. The time and expense of the second primary would have been saved.

The vote of the state was a little better than expected, but even at that only 70% of the first primary. Randall county voted only 55% of the strength of the first primary.

Political speculators read a definite line-up for 1938 at the present time. Colonel Thompson and Attorney General Wm. McCraw will face each other in the race for Governor. Lon A. Smith, by his opposition to Thompson and his call upon the utilities to defeat Thompson, will have the battle of his life. Lieut. Governor Walter Woodul will be out for Attorney General. Herman Wright has stated he will likely run again.

And so, the 1936 campaign hardly closes before the battle lines are being formed for 1938.

WORK WELL DONE

WPA work in Canyon has been highly complimented many, many times both by citizens of this section, and state officials who have visited the projects which are under way.

The success of these projects is usually determined by a number of factors: the worthwhileness of the project, and the co-operation of local officials being the two major factors. Men who are working on these projects understand whether or not they are doing something of a permanent nature, or are just being used to put in time. If they are convinced that the project is worth something to the community, self pride rules, and they put more into the project. This attitude has been praised through the program which has been carried on in Randall county. Most of the men are interested in their jobs because they can see something worth while being accomplished.

The co-operation of local officials is of paramount importance in every project. There has never been a time in Randall county when this local co-operation has not been 100% in favor of the projects under way.

John McCarty of the Amarillo News-Globe visited his old home in Dalhart last week and wrote his former column for the Dalhart Texan, using his former well known name, "Old Loco." He writes the following about Canyon: During the past few months Old Loco has had the opportunity of being in several towns in all parts of the Panhandle and this little survey leads to the conclusion that Dalhart is not getting out of the various government work projects as much as it should get. The fault may be right here at home. It seems those towns that have gone after these projects and have had the closest possible local co-operation have done quite well. Canyon and Tucumcari have probably made the outstanding progress with Federal Work and Texas relief projects with Canyon in the lead. Working in closest co-operation all local government units down there have gone after government work projects that were of a permanent and genuinely useful nature and they have done quite well. They are to be congratulated on the achievement and so is the government on lending its co-operation toward such a worthwhile program.

Six Texas Flags? Here Are Ten More.

Many believe that Texas had only six flags flown over her borders in the four centuries of her history, but in reality there were battle flags from seventeen different states flown during the Texas Revolution. Jan Fortune, author of Cavalcade of Texas, has gotten together all these historic banners for use in the Cavalcade at the Texas Centennial Exposition. These include flags from Ohio, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, South Carolina, Alabama, and some half dozen flags fashioned by Texas men and women patriots. Ten of the flags are shown above held by actors on the Cavalcade set.

HUMAN LIFE IS CHEAP

There has been great concern in this nation because about 150 citizens of the United States were caught in Spain during the revolution. Great fear has been expressed for their safety, and some hot heads would have this nation take drastic action which could lead to a costly war. The safety of the 150 looks like a big problem just now.

But should war be started, and the United States drawn into another European conflict, thousands of lives would be lost without much provocation.

Look at this problem from another angle: While there is chance of a few of the 150 American citizens being insulted, or even harmed because they saw fit to locate in Spain, this nation hardly issues a sympathetic sigh for the 35,000 who were killed on the highways last year. The record of this year will be even higher. In two days time more citizens of the United States will be killed in highway accidents, than would be the number if all the 150 in Spain should be killed.

Life is the cheapest commodity in this nation.

Lives are thrown to the wind without the least consideration simply because the American public insists on driving recklessly, usually in a hurry to get some place, where they do not give a hang about being. We drive like mad so we can get there to stand around in the way.

Public opinion is about the only way this waste of human life may be checked. Think of the horror which you regard a revolution that kills a few hundred, or even a few thousand persons—and then ask yourself if it isn't your duty to help reduce our growing accident toll.

A recent editorial appearing in The News was used as the basis for class room discussion at W. T. last week. The News professed a fair attitude toward big industries and corporations. Imagine our surprise to find that a student represented this attitude of fairness, and wondered "Why the publisher of a little country weekly has such a great interest in corporations." Just a sense of fairness to one, and all, young friend, whether it be a peanut vender plying his trade on the streets, or whether it be the biggest corporation in the world. America has become the greatest nation in the world because the people have been fair to men with money and brains, just as the people have been fair to the penniless laborers. We are not surprised that some students should think that every corporation is crooked, when we find a few professed intelligent men and women who have the same attitude. It is just as foolish to assume that because some corporations are big and successful that they of necessity are crooked, as it is to assume that because most people are poor today because they have reached that stage through honesty. Crooks are not confined either to the rich or to the poor; honesty is not the badge of the poor alone. The policy of fair dealing certainly should be the policy of the little country paper the same as it should be of the biggest daily newspaper in the United States.

The horse and buggy candidate, Mr. Landon of Kansas, has started a tour of the nation. His special train is made up of the finest railroad cars ever built, all air-conditioned, with baths, dining facilities, club rooms, special offices for himself and members of his staff, loud speakers, and a special platform on the rear so that the candidate may address large groups without leaving the train. Yes, this is the horse and buggy campaign all right, all right.

It will not be long until the Tri-State Fair will open its annual exhibit. The Fair with its free gate has established a record in Texas. Enough money is now in the bank to pay all premiums for this fall exhibition. With the free gate, the attendance has increased year by year, and the features have been greatly improved. See your Tri-State Fair this fall. It will be worth your while.

The gasoline tax increase is paying for the Centennial according to a report from Comptroller George Sheppard. More than 3,000,000 people have visited the Centennial at Dallas, and no count has been announced for the other celebrations.

Freight trains nowadays act like express specials. New freight schedules are so fast, sometimes wonder if everything has to be delivered day before yesterday.

Many of our passenger trains are running faster schedules, too. Well, one thing is sure. We make faster runs, but the first railroad commitment is still "Safety First." That's one rule they won't change.

Western railroads and allied industries provided jobs for 750,000 workers last year. Some of them live in our town. Good neighbors.

Passenger fares are now the lowest in history with substantial reductions on round trips. And no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

This new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight—I heard some traveling salesmen talking about it on the train yesterday. They said it saves shippers a lot of money and centers all responsibility on the railroad. The railroad picks up the freight at shipper's door and delivers to receiver's door. Of course, local delivery men get the haul from door-to-car and car-to-door at both ends. The railroad handles the whole transaction.

When railroads are busy, I notice towns along the railroad are prosperous. The merchants put more ads in the newspapers.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

Football Stars in Training Grind

Robert "Bones" Hamilton, left, and Bill Shakespeare, seen smiling about a movie lot in Hollywood, don't appear to be worrying greatly about their impending football battle with the Detroit Lions, last season's professional champions. Hamilton, Stanford halfback, and Shakespeare, Notre Dame's great kicking halfback, are members of the college all-star team that will play the Lions in Chicago Sept. 1. The gridsters were in Hollywood working in a football picture.

Martin Believes British Walker Cup Golfers Will Find Pine Valley Course Tough Going; Chicago Awaits Gridiron Preview

BY PHILIP MARTIN

FOR 24 long years the British have tried without a great deal of success to wrest the Walker Cup from the clutches of Uncle Samuel's golf representatives. But, with characteristic British determination, they keep right on trying.

This year's tournament will be played over the Pine Valley course at Clementon, N. J., a tract of sod sometimes quaintly referred to by golfers as "Satan's Acres."

The name given the course by disgruntled gutta percha chasers may lead you to believe the course is a rather tough one. It is nothing less than that.

A Texas amateur, one George Rotan, is the only individual to equal the course par of 70 in competition—this in the qualifying round of the George Arthur Crump memorial cup tournament in 1922.

So if the Yankees themselves don't upset the British, "Satan's Acres" may turn the trick. Certainly the invaders are going to find Pine Valley vastly different from the wide-open, treeless expanses they have been accustomed to in Britain.

This change of environment is the main obstacle the English must hurdle. Otherwise, they have a nicely balanced team. On the shoulders of the outfit's veteran players, Hector Thomson, Jack McLean, and Eric McRuvie, will rest most of the responsibility.

The real weakness of the Yankee team lies in its inexperience. Most of the 11 members may be rated green as far as Walker Cup participation goes.

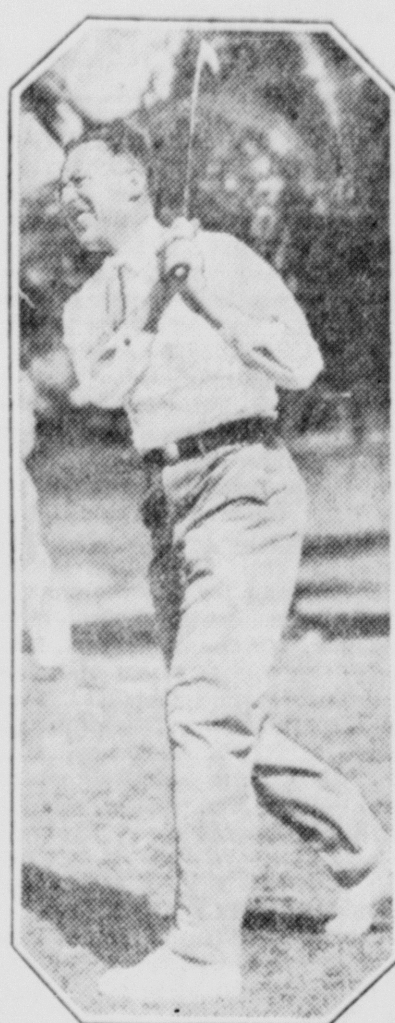

Still blasting along the fairways is the veteran Francis O'Neil, right, who again captains the American Walker Cup team. Hector Thomson, above, is one of the best golfers the British team brought over.

The vets are Capt. Francis O'Neil, George Voigt, Johnny Goodman, and Johnny Fischer.

If the British fail in this latest attempt to storm the Yankee ramparts at Pine Valley, it may very well be due to their inability to accustom themselves to this tight little course.

KING FOOTBALL will make a pre-season bow Sept. 1 when the Detroit Lions, world champion professional outfit, engage the college All-Stars at Soldiers' Field, Chicago.

Bernie Bierman of Minnesota, who has turned out some of the nation's greatest elevens, will direct the collegians, among whom are numbered many famous gridders.

This contest gives Bierman an opportunity to show skeptics that he didn't acquire his reputation on the strength of teams that prevailed by sheer weight. Bierman's teams have always played intelligent and smooth football and he emphasizes team play rather than individual performance.

When You Visit The Centennial Exposition

be sure to see the International Harvester Co., exhibit in the Transportation building. The exhibit includes displays of historic and educational interest not only to farmers, but to every man, woman and child in our state who should be interested in the social and economic progress of the past century. Much of the progress of the past century is a direct result of American ingenuity in perfecting modern farm machinery, to which the International Harvester Company has so greatly contributed.

Throughout each day you will see many machines in slow motion operation that you might better understand how they perform their duties and in addition the mechanical cow, which is an outstanding attraction, will be on exhibit. The International Harvester Company and ourselves extend to you a cordial invitation to visit this most complete display of agricultural implements.

KEEP YOUR CREDIT GOOD

---BECAUSE IT'S AN INVALUABLE ASSET

"HIS WORD IS HIS BOND"

You hear that said about someone from time to time, and it kindles a warm feeling of respect and admiration in your breast for the individual referred to.

There is a lot of satisfaction in living in a community where you know you can depend upon folks to do as they tell you they will do, people who play fair in social as well as business affairs. That's why the small city or town is so desirable as a place to call "home." The average folks in rural communities are dependable. For this reason, Canyon can easily be made the social and business center of its vast trade territory.

We realize that conditions sometimes alter cases.

A "man of his word" is occasionally placed in the embarrassing position of being unable to make good on his promises. He may have bought goods and promised to pay at a certain time, but unforeseen circumstances, sickness in the family, or other causes, prevent him from doing so. In that case, we suggest that he go to his creditor and tell him frankly of the facts, and there will be some method found for handling payments satisfactory all around.

Organized Opposition Chases Farm Racketeers to Cover in Midwest

WELL-ORGANIZED and well-armed midwestern farmers are chasing back to cover gangsters who plied their rackets with amazing success in rural areas the last few years.

Residents of the farm belt are fighting mad over depredations of bandits who have taken advantage of unlocked chicken houses, unprotected loads of cattle, and unsuspecting check recipients.

Modern anti-theft devices are seen on many farms. Animals and equipment wear identification marks. Shotguns rest in handy places. And they're loaded guns, too, for the farmer is deadly earnest in his drive to rid himself, his family, and his neighbors of this new menace.

Farmers of Illinois were first to organize. They banded together after a survey showed that the thieves had reaped a harvest of $4,000,000 in Illinois alone last year, while bank robbers and kidnapers got slightly more than $1,000,000 in the entire United States.

The Illinois farmers took their case to Gov. Henry Horner, who pledged state co-operation, and called in Ross C. Saunders to act as inspector of rural crime prevention.

SAUNDERS organized the farmers by township units. These were headed by a captain and four lieutenants. The organization was stepped down to the school districts.

These organized farmers have been dubbed "F-men." They and their families have forgotten their trusting ways. They've locked up the old farm. Suspicious cars and suspicious characters are reported to authorities.

And these authorities, once inclined to dismiss loss of chickens and livestock as petty thievery, are quick to go into action, for the farm vote elects in farm sections. Farmers have let it be known that they want punishment for persons who steal from them.

And police officers couldn't very well term the loss of 1,500,000 chickens, 20,000 head of cattle, and much valuable farm machinery in one year "petty thievery." These figures were for Illinois.

THE Illinois totals were typical of those in a dozen or more states of the middlewest. These states are following the lead of Illinois and the night prowlers are finding it increasingly difficult to "put the snatch" on hens and hogs throughout this region.

Many types of bandits victimized the farmers when the rural rackets were at their height. Among their modern ideas were the livestock rustlers who worked with trucks instead of cow ponies; the "buyer," who paid with bogus checks; the "renter" who never returned what he "rented."

More clever grafters posed as government agents, offering the farmers good draft horses in exchange for other livestock. The farmers who traded with these "agents" never saw the horses, of course.

But while some of these racketeers still operate on a restricted basis, it is correct to speak of them in the past tense. They have been pretty well licked.

The American farmer is used to battling with really tough guys—drouth, for instance.

OIL-PLATING IS...

Oil-Plating is exactly what is formed in your engine by Conoco Germ Processed oil. The Conoco Germ Process scientifically combines a most carefully refined mineral oil with an extra, exclusive "concentrated oily essence"—fully guarded by patents. And this invention enables your Conoco Germ Processed oil to combine with all engine parts so that they become literally Oil-Plated. Oil-Plating does not depend on constant pumping up, because it does not rapidly drain down, but stays put—fixed—Plated. You can see that this firmly fixed, slippery Oil-Plating leaves no un-oiled bare spots in your engine. And that leaves least chance of wear... And the less wear, the more oil you save... boxes in this precinct showed an increased number of votes in the second primary over the vote for July.

In other voting precincts the vote fell off very greatly.

Randall county went for G. H. Little in the race for State Representative. Little won by more than 500 votes, carrying Potter, Armstrong, Oldham, Deaf Smith and Randall counties. Herman Wright carried Carson county. This race had more interest than any of the district races in this section of the state.

Only two state races were staged in the second primary. Col. Ernest O. Thompson defeated Morris by a large majority. J. E. McDonald defeated Geo. B. Terrell for commissioner of agriculture by practically the same majority.

44,361 loans were made in Texas which totaled $103 billions.

Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Saddoris and children were attending to business in Canyon last week.

Canyon Schools

they will also send to the Canyon Public School. This is a very progressive step, and one that is highly recommended by the State Department of Education. The public schools have adequate facilities to accommodate all who wish to attend. The faculty has been increased for the coming year, and the schools will not be crowded. One of the best trained and most experienced faculties in the history of the school will be on hand to look after the welfare of the children and to carry on the general work of the school.

During the past year the State Department has given the Canyon Public Schools unusual recognition and commendation for the outstanding work that has been done in the field of the new curriculum. This program will be continued during the coming year, expanding, enlarging, and refining the curriculum and quality of teaching.

New members who have been added to the faculty are Mr. Emil Hutto, of Merkel, who will be football coach and teacher of history in the high school; Miss Belva Cain, late of Claude, who will teach English in the grades; Miss Annie Ruth Eastus, of Abilene, who will teach reading in the grades; Miss Pauline Crittenden, of Denton, who will teach English in the high school; Mr. H. G. Moore of Olton, who will teach English in the junior high school, and Mr. Milton Morris, who will teach vocational agriculture in the high school. One vacancy yet remains in the elementary school, which will be filled this week.

New Departments Added

Vocational agriculture, a very popular course throughout the United States and in Texas, will be given in the local schools for the first time during the coming year. Milton Morris, who will head the department, has had a rich background in agricultural training and is an experienced school man. A heavy enrollment has already been made in this course before the opening of school. Mr. Morris has been on the ground visiting and getting acquainted with the people, and it is expected that the patrons of the school district will find the course quite indispensable to the welfare of the school and county in the future.

The home economics department has also been placed on the vocational basis with special extension work being offered. Adult classes will be offered during the coming year to the women of the community. Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel has been a member of the State Curriculum Committee this summer with headquarters at Austin, and has a rich amount of material to offer the women of the community.

John B. Pope, principal of the high school, and also a member of the State Curriculum Committee, will offer an extension course in commercial training to the men of the community who would like to take advantage of courses in bookkeeping, typewriting, or other commercial subjects. Mr. Pope, a commercial major, is well qualified to give this work.

The seventh grade will be moved over to the high school building where orientation courses in home economics, manual training, and general business training will be offered. This is in keeping with modern curriculum trends and it is expected to prove very interesting to the members of the seventh grade class.

Special Assembly Sept. 7

larger town; to cultivate the friendship of all in the trade territory.

A growing evil has developed in Canyon, when merchants and members of their force have taken the parking space around the square on busy days. Mr. Warren believes that with all the parking space available around the square, merchants and clerks should not park their cars in front of business houses when this space is needed.

The Chamber of Commerce has requested a NYA student to assist on the weekly entertainment feature during the fall.

T. C. Thompson believed the trouble with Canyon is that not enough persons in Canyon are sold on the advantages which we have: paving, educational advantages; low taxes; finest water in the state; utility conveniences; the railroad and highway facilities; the best country newspaper in this section. Mr. Thompson urged that the people of Canyon assist in developing the community centers in the county, and to cultivate a friendly feeling with the farmers.

Mr. Thompson deplored the selfish motives which so often creep into business circles, which never builds a community. He urged that merchants take greater pride in their own establishments; that they instill a feeling of pride among the employees in their businesses; that the stocks be kept up-to-date and attractive.

Mr. Thompson urged that every citizen of Canyon get behind the work of the Chamber of Commerce. The program may not always suit each individual, but the work is for the benefit of the community as a whole. The only way for Canyon to go ahead is for each citizen to be a booster for the community and to back the enterprises of the community.

W. H. Upchurch suggested that the sanitary project was one of the most important things under WPA, and it was the sense of the meeting to urge that this project be continued this fall. It was recently shut down owing to the lack of men in the county.

Clyde Warwick suggested that steps be taken to entertain the legislators from Northwest Texas in Canyon during the fall. Several had expressed a desire to visit Canyon and see the College plant.

A committee was appointed of Clyde Warwick, Dr. J. A. Hill, Irby Carruth, C. R. Burrow and W. A. Warren to extend invitations and to entertain the legislators when they come.

C. R. Burrow suggested that one or two banquets of the Chamber of Commerce be held this fall in order to keep the people of Canyon interested in local activities.

Irby Carruth called attention to Houston as an example of a town that was built through the driving power of enthusiastic men. He saw the need of a revival of the co-operative spirit in Canyon, and the adoption of a continuous program. The high school band is planning to visit various communities of the county.

Following the discussions, a watermelon feed was given on the court house lawn.

Men are invited to be present at this time. A program of special interest has been prepared for the patrons.
